Destination:

Paraíso (Paradise) is the perfect name for this corner of the Adeje Municipality, located in the southern part of the island of Tenerife. It is located 10km from Las Americas beach and is an ideal place for relaxation.

The beach extends along the coast to the three gullies that form a rocky beach where the waves break, creating a majestic show to watch as well as offering wonderful views of the island of Gomera.

The island of Tenerife is the largest of the Canary archipelago. Its most significant characteristic is the great richness and variety of the island's landscapes: the humidity and vegetation of the north largely contrasts with the arid and sunny south. One of the most popular attractions of the island is the Teide, the highest peak of Spain at 3.718 meters. From the top travellers can take advantage of the unforgettable views. Other must-see visits include: The Natural Park of Las Cañadas, Icod de los vinos, a town where one can visit the wind cave (the biggest volcanic cavity on the planet) and the oldest Drago tree in the world, and the Port of Santa Cruz with the largest artificial salt water lake in Spain. The coast not only offers beautiful contrasts such as impressive cliffs and beaches of golden or black sand.
